

School Song Parody

By: Austin and Adam

We're the school with a vision of a big slam dunk! Where the coaches and the players get along

We love our coaches and are team mates and respect the referees and we're very proud to sing to you Oh Canada

Blue and purple you will see and in sports we will succeed as we strive to reach the top along the way.

We're the bobcats of New Maryland and in the future we will make the NBA and the skills that we're learning at the practice

We're the players of NMES school and the future's the NBA we will reach success We're the players of NME!
